

"When Gold Loses Its Value"

I'm imagining this as a follow-up to AnMeiden, my creative endeavor of composing one song every six months, which I posted quite some time ago. Although it's already been about 10 months since AnMeiden, I haven't forgotten about my composing activities...

AnMeiden

- ① July 1st: Welfare payment 20,112 yen
- ② July 1st: Paid gas bill of just under 5,000 yen to Kitagas (also an electricity retailer)
- ③ Postage of about 3,500 yen (cost of filing special appeal)
- ④ As of July 16th, I have 10 yen left... I just got points from my daily survey and exchanged them for PayPaymoney. That's an extra 100 yen... I bought a milk coffee with that
- ⑤ August 1st: Welfare payment 20,112 yen

Please rate it when it reaches ⑤

By the way, there are still 14 days left, so you probably can't rate it, but I can do it, so you should give it a try.

There is also the option of gradually lowering the amount of tax that each household can achieve, and if this can be achieved, then the next time the same thing happens, the household will have the confidence to overcome it. In the future, anything can happen

That's because it's the dividing line between ①, ②, and ③ in my previous work, which is whether or not someone commits a criminal offense

Today I'll show you some interesting works.

"When Gold Loses Its Value"

(Example 1)

If you have never experienced the above financial difficulties and your income has decreased for some reason

Monthly income of 500,000 yen → 300,000 yen →
There is a possibility of negative behavior

(Example 2)

If you have experienced the above financial difficulties and your income has decreased for some reason

Monthly income: 150,000 yen → 50,000 yen →
Confidence because I've overcome it before → Mental ease →
Purchase with my own money

- ① Replace what was previously genuine with a compatible, cheaper or second-hand product
- ② The price will be based on the market price for used goods at the time of purchase of the new product.

(From a buyer insider...I feel like I've heard the word insider somewhere before.)

One piece of advice for Mrs. Devi

in short,

Money is an object and it is humans who manipulate it, but money should not manipulate humans.

Even if I succumb to a lack of money again, it is only temporary, and I have to keep living...

Therefore, from the beginning,

That's why we have the NLNK Act and the U.S.W Act as a set.

There's been no feedback from the government departments... Normally,

"Thank you for your valuable opinion."

I expect the response to be something like this...
